

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Robert Paul Prusinski was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin on January 15, 1957. He started flying, while studying Avionics at Blackhawk Technical Institute, in Janesville, Wisconsin. He decided to round out his education at the University of Wisconsin, in Milwaukee, where he studied general sciences. In 1981, Robert graduated from the University of the State of New York, in Albany, with his Bachelor of Science Degree.

Robert has been a Certified Instrument Flight Instructor for single and multi-engine aircraft since 1979. He obtained his Flight Engineer Rating in a Boeing 727, and has been an Airline Transport Pilot since 1981. He has flown over 4,000 hours in various types of aircraft.

Robert currently runs his own company which has him flying several different types of aircraft. He still finds instructing, the most fulfilling, and enjoyable part of aviation.